CLEVELAND MAN APPEARS TO BE FIRST COUNSELLOR.

Washington, June 30 .- "I'm in process of sloughing off my official robes." This was the laconic description of business. He gave notice early in the collapsed. day that he did not propose to discuss politics in the last hours of his administration as secretary of war, because matter which he necessarily had on hand. Throughout the day he was in consultation with Governor Wright, who is to be his successor as executive head of the war department, and with the bureau chiefs of the department.

Political Conference.

The only real political conference he Mr. Burton discussed with the secretary the details of the convention and the practical situation as it has developed since the convention adjourned. They devoted particular attention to political conditions in Ohio, concerning which he is especially solicitous.

At the conclusion of the conference Mr. Burton said that a number of questions were considered by Mr. Taft and himself concerning which he could not talk. Mr. Burton continued:

Dope on Vorys.

"Mr. Vorys, who has been mentioned in connection with the national chairmanship of the Republican party, will be identified probably with the approaching national campaign in an important capacity; but as the situation s today he will not be the chairman of the committee. I have no informa tion at this time on the national chairmanship question beyond that. I am quite certain, however, that all of the wrinkles which now seem to exist will be smoothed out in a few days." Commenting upon his interview with Mr. Burton, Secretary Taft said, diplo-

Question of Tickets.

The question of tickets continues to divide the members of the committee on convention arrangements and the committee of Denver citizens which is looking after the Denver end of the convention. As is usually the case, the local people would like to have a greater cal people would like to have a greater number of tickets than the committee cal people would like to have a greater number of tickets than the committee feels it can spare. One member of the national committee described the situation today in the following language:

"It's just this way: Denver is of course entitled to its share of tickets, and it cannot be denied that the people of this city have kept their promises and have behaved in the most handsome manner to the members of the national committee. On the other hand—and it must be understood that the local Denver comtee. On the other hand—and it must be understood that the local Denver committee is in no way responsible for this —certain people have advertised the Demute appropriate as a sort of added atocratic convention as a sort of added at-traction for the summer tourist season and have allowed it to be understood that tickets are to be had for the asking, and that every traveler who visits the state at the time the convention is in progress can have a ticket.

Pressure on Committee.

"That is stating it a stifle strongly, perhaps, but a lot of that sort of advertising has been done, and it is bringing many people to Colorado who will have no chance on earth to see the inside of the convention hall. The committee naturally feels this pressure and we cannot decide just what we will be able to do until we know just exactly how many seats we will have. Denver is say-ing to the national committee, 'Give us ing to the national committee, Give us tickets,' and the committee is replying to Denver, 'Show us the seats.'"

The members of the committee spent several hours today in going through the convention hall, but did not succeed in producing any greater seating capacity

Committee Rooms. Adequate accommodations for the sesons of the committees on resolutions, credentials, permanent organization, and Auditorium, arrangements made today to have these committees meet in the building of the Fraternal Union. That organization today proferred the use of the rooms to the committee on convention arrangements and the tender was accepted.

Chairman Taggart of the national committee has been charged with the responsibility of letting contracts for the establishment of a hospital in the Auditorium building for emergency purposes. Mr. Taggart inspected the hospital in the Chicago Coliseum immediately after adjournment of the Republican na tional committee, and was greatly pleased with the completeness of the establish-ment. The hospital here will be pa: terned after the temporary hospital at the Chicago Coliseum. The contracts for equipment and supplies, and the matter of securing the attendance of compe-tent physicians and nurses, will be disposed of tomorrow

EIGHT HOURS FOR POLICE

Council Puts Old Rule Into Effect and Reduces Sergeant Pincock to Patrolman.

On recommendation of the police committee the city council at an adjourned meeting last night put the eight-hour law meeting last night put the eight-hour law in the police department back into effect. The committee also recommended that Charles Pincock be reduced from sergeant to patrolman. This disposes of the last of the police sergeants, the others having been reduced to the ranks some months ago. The eight-hour iaw has certain provisions that patrolmen and sergeants must report for duty twenty minutes before the beginning of their shifts in order to be on their beats a full eight hours.

The eight-hour law was discontinued shortly after Mayor A. L. Brewer assumed office the first of the year. Since that time the men have been forced to work ten-hour shifts and there has been much dissatisfaction. The police committee's action was taken at the instance of the chief of solice who are britted. of the chief of police, who submitted a written communication to the council a week or two ago requesting that eight-hour law be put back in force. President Browning was absent from last night's session. Dr. G. A. Dickson occupied the chair and, together with the other six members present, adopted a resolution introduced by Flygare authorizing the buildings and grounds committee to sell the Ogden General hospital building and grounds which is city propbuilding and grounds, which is city prop erty. A short discussion brought out the fact that while the hospital is the property of the city it has derived positively no revenue, although paying an annual fire insurance on it. The hospital is located on Twenty-eighth street between Monroe and Madison avenues.

A recommendation from the fire com-nittee to place fire hydrants in the center of the business blocks and that laterals be extended to eight inches was adopted. Councilman Flygare said that the water company was willing to take this step toward giving better fire protection in the business part of the city.

Councilman Powers in a burst of eloquence at the conclusion of the meeting talked against the promiscuous shooting of fireworks within the city limits. He favored a good old fashioned cele-bration of the Fourth and thought that the fireworks should all be discharged in some part of the city set aside especially for that purpose. The council failed to take any action regarding the proposi-

For this reason it is pointed out that the number arrested while in the act of strangling reason it is pointed out that the number of books has not been increased to any extent this year. The board further points out that notwithstanding the financial difficulties the library has made substantial progress during the yast year.

The annual report of the librarian, Miss W. Harris, attached to the report of the board, contains some interesting facts. It states that the library is be-coming essential to the students and serious readers of the community. The number of books is now 6,652. There are now twenty newspapers and fifty-seven magazines in the reading room and the number of readers registered at the library is 4,868. The circulation of books for home reading for the year was 33,672, an increase over the previous year.

The only department to show a los during the year is the children's department, where the number of books has been reduced from 810 to 706 with 1,879 children holding membership cards.
